This family history starts with Joseph Ignatius Grehan who first arrived in America around 1859. Apparently, he left his parents, Patrick and Harriet Grehan, in England.

The Civil War began on April 12, 1861.

Joseph Grehan, age 27, white, a Boatman, unmarried, born in England, living in Cumberland, Md., registered for the Civil War Draft.<sup>1</sup> In Oct. 1861, as a member of the Second Maryland Infantry, Potomac Home Brigade, he participated in an action near Springfield, Va. [now W. Va.]. History of Allegany County included the following letter:

*Headquarters,
2nd Regiment, P. H. Brigade,
Camp Thomas, Oct. 27, 1861.*

Brigadier General C. M. Thurston:

Sir: In compliance with verbal orders received after consultation with General Kelly and yourself, the night of the 25th instant, I concentrated 700 of my regiment at Camp at North Branch Bridge, and on the following morning, at 5:30 o'clock, marched in the direction of Romney, passing through Frankfort, upon arriving at a point one and one-half miles from Springfield. The rear of my column was fired upon by the enemy from the heights of the road; wounding two men, detaining the column. About one hour was occupied in clearing the woods of the enemy and dressing the wounded. We marched thence through Springfield, seeing frequent signs of the enemy's horsemen in retreat towards the bridge over South Branch of the Potomac. Upon arriving within a half mile of the bridge, my flankers and skirmishers on the left and front discovered the enemy on the opposite side of the river, when a brisk fire at once commenced. About this time the guns of Gen. Kelly's column in vicinity of Romney were heard. After skirmishing with the enemy across the river about half an hour, I determined to force our way over the bridge. The enemy numbering (by the best information we could get) from four to six hundred, including cavalry, having beforehand prepared to defend its passage, had arranged covers for his riflemen on an eminence immediately fronting the bridge.

Captain Alexander Shaw, of Company A, who led the advance of the column to this point, was with his company, directed to lead the way across the bridge, at a double-quick step. Supported by the remainder of the regiment, Captain Shaw promptly moved his company as directed, and when about half way across the bridge, discovered that a portion of the plank flooring on the further side had been removed. The enemy on discovering the movement, opened fire by volley, killing one and wounding six of my men, causing the company to seek shelter behind the parapets of the bridge.

After skirmishing some time from the parapets of the bridge and an eminence on our left, and not hearing the fire of Gen. Kelly for the previous hour, I concluded he had carried Romney, and the object of my march, to create a diversion in his favor being accomplished, I determined to retire, which I did in good order, to Oldtown, in Maryland, arriving there about 9 o'clock P.M., after a march of 25 miles.

It is with pleasure that I speak of the good behavior of all my officers and men, and would call your attention particularly to the gallant charge led by Capt. Alexander Shaw. Captain Fiery, of Dragoons, with his company, rendered very efficient service by drawing the fire of the enemy from my regiment at the bridge. I was much gratified at and indebted to Mr.

Grehan, who volunteered to go with me, for his prompt and cheerful assistance. Mr. Grehan was frequently exposed to severe fire of the enemy.

“I am, with great respect,

Your obedient servant,

Thomas Johns,

Col. 2nd Regiment, Potomac Home Brigade”<sup>2</sup>

As a result of this, Joseph I. Grehan was made an Aide de Camp for Brigadier General C. M. Thurston. Joseph I. Grehan was discharged in Jan. 1862, after 4 months service.

On May 15, 1863, Joseph I. Grehan, in consideration of a mortgage for $1,650, purchased the canal boat “Nimrod.”<sup>3</sup> Also on May 15, 1863, Joseph I. Grehan, in consideration of a mortgage of $1,500, purchased the canal boat “General McClellan,”<sup>4</sup> both from Henry Thomas Weld, of Cumberland. The mortgages were to be paid off with trippage fees of $40 per trip, with interest.

In 1863 we can verify that the “Nimrod” with respect to Georgetown:

Arrived	Departed
5/6/1863	5/8/1863
5/18/1863	5/19/1863
5/27/1863	5/28/1863
6/8/1863	6/8/1863

The average round trip was about 10 days, which would be consistent with expeditious freighting, probably running day and night. No records have been found for the “Nimrod” after June. 8, 1863.

Confederate raiders routinely crossed the Potomac and captured canal boats; burning the boats and carrying off the horses and mules. While the newspapers of the day usually recorded the event, they did not list the names of the boats burned. We suspect that is what happened to the “Nimrod.”

And the “Gen. McClellan” with respect to Georgetown:

Arrived	Departed
1/17/1863	1/17/1863
3/31/1863	4/3/1863
4/11/1863	4/11/1863
5/4/1863	5/7/1863
5/18/1863	5/19/1863
5/27/1863	5/28/1863
6/6/1863	6/8/1863
6/17/1863
	8/3/1863
8/26/1863	8/26/1863
9/4/1863	9/8/1863
	9/28/1863

The average round trip was about 13 days, which would still be expeditious freighting allowing for interruptions from the Confederates. Note that on 5/18 and 5/27 the “Nimrod” and “Gen. McClellan” arrived at the same time, suggesting that Capt. Grehan brought them down in tandem. Bringing two boats in tandem, i.e. with one crew plus a tow-boy, could mean extra profits. The data for 1863 remains incomplete.

We can verify that the “Gen. McClellan” arrived in Georgetown on April 22 and again on May 25, 1864. The data for 1864 remains incomplete.

At the start of the 1865 boating season, the coal companies were paying $3 per ton to freight coal to Georgetown, Alexandria or

Washington. A typical canal boat could carry 110 tons of coal = $330 per trip, so, paying $40 or even $60 per trip as an installment on the mortgage was possible. However, the Confederates were known to attack and burn canal boats as targets of opportunity.

The Civil War ended on April 9, 1865.

We did find a record that on April 11, 1865 the canal boat “Gen. McClellan” arrived in Georgetown with 106 tons 18 hundredweight of coal consigned to J. I. Grehan. No records have been found for either the canal boats “Nimrod” or the “Wren” in 1865.

On Wed. May 17, 1865, the agents of the coal companies held a conference and reduced the freight rate from $3 per ton to $2 per ton. While the threat from Confederate forces was gone the new, lower rate squeezed the boatmen in making their mortgage installment payments and a profit.

On Oct. 31, 1865, Joseph I. Grehan, in consideration of a mortgage of $2,268, purchased the canal boat “Wren,”<sup>5</sup> from Henry Thomas Weld, of Cumberland. The mortgage was to be paid off with trippage fees of $60 per trip, with interest.

Sometime after the Civil War, Joseph I. Grehan returned to England, where he married Mary Josephine Kelly on Feb. 20. 1868.<sup>6</sup> They came back to the U.S. and lived in Cumberland, Maryland. They had two children there, Mary (born about 1868) and Walter (born about 1870).

In 1869 we have a record of canal boats passing Lock 5, which was the Collector’s Office for way-bill verification on descending boats and way-bill supply for ascending boats. From that record we find the Gen. McClellan arrived on: 4/14, 4/29, 5/16, 5/30, 6/14, 6/26, 7/8 and 7/22, which means a round trip of about 14 days, typically. We find the Wren arrived on: 5/22, 6/4, 6/15, 6/25, 7/9 and 7/23 which means a round trip of about 14 days, typically. The arrival dates do not match, suggesting two captains vice Capt. Grehan with two bots in tandem. It also suggests that Joseph I. Grehan was busy boating in 1869, vice running a general store at Lock 67.

Mary Josephine Grehan died circa 1870, possibly at childbirth.

The 1870 census listed Joseph I. Grehan, age 32, a retail merchant with real estate valued at $1,100 and a personal estate valued at $4,000, living in Springfield, W. Va.<sup>7</sup> He was born in England, could read and write and had been denied voting rights. A wife and children were not listed suggesting that earlier that year (1870) he had taken the children back to England and returned. He was living with the M. Hampton family; M. Hampton, age 51, was a Clerk in a Store. The residence also included Mahlon H. Russell, age 40, a Retail Merchant also, who also had real estate valued at $1,00 and a personal estate valued at $4,000.

In 1870, Mahlon H. Russell and Joseph Grehan were partners in a retail store on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal at Lock 67, which is located at Mile Post 161.76.<sup>8</sup> The lease was signed on June 2, 1870 although the partners had already occupied two frame buildings, one a store and the other a hay shed, with annual lease payments of $36 starting in Nov. 1, 1870. The partners lived in Springfield, W. Va., which is located across the Potomac river from Oldtown, Md. [M.P. 167.04]. Okonoko Ford across the Potomac river was located at Mile Post 161.82, near culvert No. 215, built in 1850. There was also a ford across the Potomac river from South Branch Depot, B. & O. Railroad, to Lock 68 [M.P. 164.82]. Thus, there were routes to commute from Springfield W. Va. to Lock 67 on the C. & O. Canal.

After Mary Josephine Grehan's death, Joseph I. Grehan took the 2 children back to Ireland to be brought up by their Kelly relatives. He then returned to America.

Joseph I. Grehan, of Cumberland, Md. widowed, age 36, married Hannah B. Broders, of Oak Grove, Fairfax county, Va. on Jan. 2, 1872 in Alexandria, Va.<sup>9</sup>

On Feb. 27, 1875, in consideration of $550, Lloyd Lowe and Nancy Jane Lowe, his wife, did sell to Mahlon H. Russell and Joseph I. Grehan, of Allegany county, Lot No. 2, on the tow path side of the C. & O. Canal below the Town Creek Aqueduct, containing 16 acres and 59 perches.<sup>10</sup> So it would seem that after the marriage, Joseph and Hannah Grehan lived in the Cumberland area, vice Alexandria.

Sometime between 1875 and 1880, Joseph and Hannah Grehan moved from Allegany County to Fairfax County; he gave up the retail merchant role and became a farmer near Mt. Vernon, Va,

The 1880 census listed Joseph Grehan, age 41, a farmer, as living in Mount Vernon, Va.<sup>11</sup> Living with him were: Hannah B., age 30, wife; John J., age 5, son.

On Jan 20, 1881, in consideration of $500, Joseph and Hannah Grehan, of Fairfax County, Va., sold all their interest in the two pieces of land and the improvements thereon at Lock No. 67, on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, including all the stock of goods of every description and the incurred debts to Mahlon H. Russell.<sup>12</sup>

The 1900 census reported Joseph Grehan, age 59, married 24 years, working as a Gardner in Mt. Vernon, Va.<sup>13</sup> Living with him were: Hannah, age 48, wife, married 24 years, she had 4 children all of whom were then still living; John J., age 24, son, working as an Insurance Agent; William, age 17, son, working as a farm laborer; Hannah, age 13, daughter; Elizabeth, age 12, daughter; and Mollie A. Broders, age 57, cousin.

Joseph Grehan died in April 1909, his obituary read: "DEATH OF JOSEPH I. GREHAN – Mr. Joseph I. Grehan, an old, well-known and respected resident of Fairfax county, died at his home at Franconia at an early hour this morning. The deceased leaves a widow and several children. Mr. Grehan was 73 years old. He had many acquaintances and friends in this city."<sup>14</sup>

Another newspaper had the obituary: "Joseph I. Grehan, seventy-three years of age, died at this home at Franconia, about 5 o'clock this morning. Mr. Grehan was stricken with paralysis at 3 o'clock this morning and died two hours later. He was a well-known farmer of Franconia and is

She was a Miss Broders. Surviving her are the following children: John Grehan, Mrs. William Greenan, William Grehan, this city; Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, Pleasantville, N. Allegany County Courthouse, Cumberland, MD, Deed Book 21, page 224, 7/21/1863.

At the request of H. T. Weld this mortgage was recorded July 21st 1863.

This Indenture, made this 15th day of May eighteen hundred and sixty three, between Joseph I. Grehan of Allegany County, State of Maryland of the first part and Henry Thomas Weld of Allegany County, State of Maryland, of the second part.

Whereas the said Henry Thomas Weld has this day sold to the said Grehan the Canal Boat called "Nimrod" at and for the sum of sixteen hundred and fifty dollars which the said Grehan is to pay unto the said Weld and his assigns, in installments of forty dollars each with interest, the accruing interest to be paid at each installment from the beginning for every trip made by said boat from Cumberland to Georgetown, Alexandria, or Washington City, until the entire balance of said purchase money is paid, with interest thereon from this date, crediting the respective payments thereon, as of the time when such payments shall be made.

And whereas, it was a part of said contract of purchase and sale between the said Grehan and the said Weld that the said Grehan shall use the said boat in freighting coal from Cumberland to the points aforesaid, in regular trips, with as much expedition and regularity as can be reasonably done; and to receive the loads of the said boat promptly at each trip with coal of such company or person as the said Weld shall direct; and to freight the same at the lowest current rates which shall be paid by the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company, the Borden Mining Company and the Allegany Mining Company; and keep said boat in proper repair; all of which said stipulations the said Grehan hereby covenants and agrees with the said Weld and his assigns to fulfill and perform.

Provided always that if the said Weld should not be prepared with coal within twenty four hours of the boat being reported by the Captain as ready to receive her load, then the said Grehan to have the right of loading wherever he chooses for that trip; provided the detention is not caused by a glut of boats, in which case, all must take their turn. And whereas the said Grehan is anxious to secure unto the said Weld and his assigns, the regular and due payment of each and every installment of said purchase money; and also to secure to the said Weld and his assigns, the regular, prompt and due performance of the covenants aforesaid, the said Grehan is willing to execute these presents.

Now this Indenture Witnesseth, that the said Grehan for and in consideration of the premises hath granted, bargained, and sold and by these presents doth grant, bargain and sell unto the said Henry Thomas Weld, his executors, administrators and assigns, the Canal Boat called "Nimrod" to have and to hold the same unto the said Henry Thomas Weld, his executors, administrators and assigns, forever.

Provided nevertheless, and it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of these presents, that if the said Grehan shall well and truly pay unto the said Weld, his executors, administrators or assigns, the aforesaid installments of purchase money, upon each and every trip as aforesaid until the whole purchase money with the interest as aforesaid, shall be fully paid; and if the said Grehan shall well and truly do and perform all the covenants on his part to be done and performed as set forth in this mortgage, then this instrument of writing and every matter and thing herein contained shall cease and be utterly null and void; otherwise to remain in full force and virtue in law.

And this instrument further witnesseth, that it is mutually agreed between the parties aforesaid, that in case of any default upon the part of the said Grehan to make regular payments on account of said purchase money, as herein provided, or in case of a refusal or neglect upon the part of the said Grehan to freight for the company or person designated by said Weld; or in case of a failure or neglect to use all diligence, care and skill in making such trips with said boat, as before mentioned; or in case said boat is not kept in proper repair; or in case of a failure to perform any of the stipulations or recitals in this mortgage named, to be done and performed on the part of the said Grehan, then, and in either event, the said Henry Thomas Weld or his assigns, is hereby authorized to take immediate possession of said boat and after ten days public notice thereof, in a newspaper printed in the City of Cumberland, to sell said canal boat at public sale, as mortgagee, to the highest bidder for cash or on credit; and out of the proceeds of such sale pay first the expenses of such sale and advertisement and then the balance due to said Weld, or his assigns, of said purchase money and interest.

In witness whereof the said Joseph I. Grehan hath hereunto subscribed his name and affixed his seal on the day and year first above written.
